Aggressive Truck Functions for a Safer Fire Ground

Many departments feel that aggressive truck company operations are unsafe. This class helps us understand the importance for aggressive truck functions.

Current trends in building construction actually call for more aggressive truck company functions, not less.

V.E.S is not a Four Letter Word

The Tactic of Vent, Enter, and Search is widely misunderstood, and underutilized. When used properly VES is actually the safest most effective way to search a building. The class teaches how to utilize the tactic in safe and efficient manner to maximize our effectiveness on the fire ground, and increase the potential to save trapped victims.

Please Keep in mind this seminar is open to any and all Departments and Firefighters, not just the ones that have an Aerial device. Truck company operations take place at all structural fires whether an Aerial Device is on the scene or not, it is of the utmost importance for all of us to understand the job, duties, and how Truck Company and Engine Company Duties work hand in hand
