Synopsis:

Join us for the dynamic and motivating follow-up to last year's extremely successful leadership seminar, "Jump Seat to the Front Seat: Leadership for All Ranks". At our request, Division Chief Jimm Walsh developed this sequel-seminar to build on basic leadership strategies and techniques and take a unique look at leadership from a tactical perspective.

The program is designed to bridge the gaps between leading a company on a day-to-day basis in the firehouse, preparing members to be battle-ready on the training ground, and leading your members into high risk fireground situations by highlighting the similarities and differences in leadership tactics for various real-world applications.

Not sure about "another leadership class"? Here are some student comments from our last one:

- "I'll be approaching my position in a renewed fashion with a new understanding of what my role should be and how I can best accomplish that."
- "I was asked about the class when I returned to the fire house and the best way I could explain it was to say it felt like a 'church revival'. Time after time during Jimm's presentation I felt like standing up and saying can I have an AMEN."
- "The instructor was great! I was constantly trying to picture scenarios to apply the leadership points."

Lead Instructor:

The presenter is Division Chief Jimm Walsh, Winter Park, Florida Fire Department, and owner/webmaster of VentEnterSearch.com. Jimm has lectured extensively on Leadership and Truck Company Functions, including teaching at FDIC. He has a Bachelor's Degree in Public Administration and has been credentialed as a Chief Fire Officer (CFO) and Executive Fire Officer (EFO). Jimm is a Rescue Squad Officer on Urban Search and Rescue Team FL-TF-4 and is a Planning Section Chief and Co-Chairs the Florida Region 5 Incident Management Team.
